

I am in total agreement with the VEC's. The code requirement should be dropped to operate on the armature HF bands. I know several technician class license holders that will not upgrade because of the code requirement. Lets follow the other countries that have dropped the code requirement and drop ours.

John Yocum
KG6FYB